

Why QuietHire.com Works

The Future of Confidential Hiring Is Here Today With QuietHire.com!

QuietHire.com provides a refreshing and powerful alternative, confidentially linking a higher volume of candidates and employers together.

- Candidates fill out a FREE confidential profile that highlights their education, job titles, skills, salary expectations and relocation options
- Candidates never upload a resume or give out personally identifiable information
- Employers fill out a company profile and a job search criteria that is then matched to candidate profiles through our proprietary electronic system
- Employers view select profiles and submit interest to the candidate through our confidential messaging system
- Candidates review company profile and job criteria
- Candidates may respond to the company directly with interest or not respond at all
- The interview and hiring process begins

Before QuietHire.com

Candidates had to:

- Post a resume on an online job board
- Spend countless personal hours researching posted company positions
- Possibly be approached by a recruiter
- Search local newspaper classifieds

Employers had to:

- Pay excessive membership fees to online job boards and post jobs with limited duration
- Post open positions on a company or corporate website
- Enlist the services of a recruiter
- Advertise open positions in newspapers and trade publications

Other advantages to QuietHire.com

- Candidates can keep an updated, confidential virtual profile throughout their career 24/7, 365 days a year, at no charge
- Candidates do not have to spend countless hours searching job postings. Employers will find them!
- Employers can join for a one time, low annual fee, per company location with unlimited access to candidate profiles for all open positions.
- Employers do not have to post jobs, only their job form criteria, which can be saved to use over and over for instant profile searches
- Employers save money on recruiter fees and online job boards
- Employers can reach candidates that would not otherwise be seen due to fear of job security
- New candidate profiles are added daily
- QuietHire.com utilizes the newest technology for fast and convenient results
